FutureSafe 2035: Building Resilient Food Safety Systems for a Changing World

Climate disruption. Geopolitical instability. New food technologies. AI.
Changing consumers. More complex supply chains.

What will these changes mean for food safety — and what should New Zealand be doing about them now?

Hear from some of New Zealand's leading voices in trade, food, innovation and systems thinking — including Hon. Tim Groser, Lain Jager, Nicola O'Rourke and Prof. Linda Tuhiwai Smith CNZM — as they look ahead to the food safety challenges of 2035.
